Attention: Ms. Maureen O'Neill, President

Dear Ms. O'Neill:

The City of Toronto's Transportation Services Division has recently amended its Transportation web site to incorporate properties which are currently licensed for parking on the boulevard, i.e., front yard parking, driveway widening, residential/commercial boulevard parking.

As you are aware, the license for boulevard parking does not follow the property, but that a new property owner will need to apply to have the license agreement transferred. Before you list a property for sale, you may want to ensure that any existing front yard parking facility is properly licensed.

The link to this web site is www.toronto.ca/transportation, under parking, then off-street parking and then licensed locations. The list is updated on a weekly basis.

While every effort is made to keep the information accurate and up-to-date, requests for information on offer of purchase and sale should be done through an official request to the division for information.

Should you require further information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Angie Antoniou, Manager
Traffic Planning/Right of Way Management
Toronto and East York District
